

Nick Steel presents:

Francis & Power in

DEEP DARK CUTS

A gloriously offensive sketch show exploring the darker aspects of human nature...

A drug addicted businessman, a cabaret-singing Tourette's sufferer and a pop impresario with a sordid past are just three of society's oddballs who with other wickedly funny character creations combine to form an hour of black comedy and incisive observations.

One of the highlights of the Edinburgh Fringe Festival 2006

Not for the easily offended!

Special one-off show!

'Acutely observed character monologues... sardonic wit at its best. GO SEE'

*The List *****

'Timing that could give Accurist a run for its money... It's nasty stuff, but extremely entertaining!'

*The Scotsman *****

'Some of the most SINISTER and SURREAL comic creations this side of League of Gentlemen'

*The Sunday Herald ******

'One of the classiest examples of loud-mouthed filth you're ever likely to experience'

Chortle

Thursday 5th June 2008

Natural Theatre HQ, Widcombe Institute, Widcombe Hill, Bath

Doors open 7.45pm for show at 8.30pm £7.50

Tickets from Bath Festivals Box Office, tel: 01225 463362

or online from www.widcombe.net

Sponsored by:  xerophon

Licenced Bar